

KAT Payroll

The HR managers are important part of any organization and are responsible for smooth execution of organizations. The role of HR starts from interviewing candidates, appointments, recruiting as employee, fixing the salary, salary processing and appraisal etc., HR personnel must go through a pile or bundles of papers for doing all these things manually. Amongst all, a very tedious and an important task for any HR personnel is to carryout the processing of salary. The processing of salary needs more supervision as it has to be done in time, coupled with accurateness. While processing a salary for employees HR personnel has to consider the grade of employee, present days, leaves and along with these various organizational rules(if any) etc.

Now a days the payroll processing has become a messy and chaotic, due to various reasons such as, changing HR policies, slabs, formulas from time to time. To ease the work of HR personnel from a very tedious job of payroll processing, an organization must have an automated payroll system. The system which helps HR in processing salary within minutes.
